LAU PA SAT

Singapore's Most Iconic Hawker Market

Lau Pa Sat blends history, historical architecture and scrumptious local food into a must-visit food & retail destination for locals and visitors alike, with a rich 130 year history.

An Architectural Gem

Situated in the heart of the financial district, the market was completed in 1894 by Municipal Engineer — James MacRitchie. One of the oldest Victorian structures in South-East Asia, its prefabricated solid cast-iron columns were cast in Glasgow before being shipped to and assembled in Singapore, and crowned by a stately clock tower.

The distinctive octagonal architectural masterpiece is a timeless icon, and proud showpiece of Singapore's skyline. A true Singapore landmark, it was gazetted as a national monument on 28 June 1973.

Lau Pa Sat presently houses Singapore's most iconic hawker centre offering some of the best local cuisines. So revel in the elegant old-world charm of Singapore's 'Best Looking' Food Hall.
